Director's Report

Chairman, Shri B.G. Deshmukh, Honourable Chief Guest, Prof. Mrinal Miri, Dr. J.J. Bhabha, Distinguished Guests, Alumni, Students, Staff and Faculty.

INTRODUCTION

I deem it an honour to welcome you all to the sixty-third convocation of the Tata Institute of Social Sciences and present the Annual Report of 2002–2003.

This convocation marks another year of continuing growth of the Institute, which was born in an environment of social experimentation. A decade of field work had preceded its birth which was indeed a trail-blazer in urban community work then. This glorious tradition of pioneering on social frontiers in India has continued till date. New field action projects in response to emerging needs and social priorities are adding to the diversity of such social interventions. The participatory approach and flexibility, which are characteristic of the academic programme and work culture of the Institute, have earned wide recognition at the national and international levels, including the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC).

Today, the Institute is presenting to the outside world a group of professionals who have pursued their studies successfully and the awarding of degrees to them is but a formal recognition of their professional preparation and competence.

Highlights

- The Tata Education Trust has sanctioned a very generous grant of Rs. 5 crores (spread over a 3 year period) towards development of Phase 2 of the Malti and Jal A.D. Naoroji Campus Annexe. Of this, Rs. 3 crores has been received.
- The Tata Education Trust has once again been very generous in their aid to the Institute by sanctioning Rs. 1 crore for setting up a Digital Library at TISS.
- The Institute's Sir Dorabji Tata Memorial Library has been identified by the University Grants Commission (UGC) as one of its nodal centres for INFONET. This will enable the Library to have online access to hundreds of social sciences journals.

- Mrs. Piloo M.K. Tata, Chairperson and Managing Trustee, M.K. Tata Trust, has given a generous grant of Rs. 45 lakhs to construct a three-storied M.K. Tata Memorial Gymkhana-cum- Recreation Centre on the Institute's Main Campus. Built to commemorate the memory of the late Mr. M.K. Tata, the gym-cum-recreation centre was inaugurated earlier today.
- The Tenth Plan UGC Expert Committee visited the Institute from October 28–31, 2002, to evaluate its performance during the Ninth Plan and examine its proposals for the Tenth Plan.
- The UGC has given a one-time special grant of Rs. 32 lakhs to upgrade the facilities of the Computer Centre.
- The Institute has initiated a year-long exercise of curriculum review of the MA Social Work programme.
- As part of the Institute's waste management programme, a vermiculture project has been initiated.

IN MEMORIAM

We deeply mourn the loss of five of our family members who passed away this year.

- Mr. Nani Palkhiwala, Holding Trustee of the Institute, passed away on December 10, 2002.
- Mr. Akhtar Hussain, a second-year MA Social Work student, passed away on January 7, 2003.
- Ms. Shelley Verma, a first-year MHA (Hospital) student, passed away on January 8, 2003.
- Mr. Sudam Padam, who joined the Institute on May 2, 1984, as Dining Hall Helper, passed away on January 12, 2003.
- Mr. Sahebrao S. Govande who retired on September 20, 2002, passed away on January 25, 2003.
- Mr. R.E. Borhade, who joined the Institute on July 1, 1961, as Peon and subsequently promoted to Machine Operator, passed away on April 11, 2003.

NATIONAL ASSESSMENT AND ACCREDITATION: THE FOLLOW-UP PROPOSALS

After accreditation of the Institute by NAAC with 5 stars, the process of accreditation of individual Departments and Units has been set in motion. Follow-up of the recommendations of NAAC, comprehensive revision of courses and challenges posed by the World Trade Organisation are now engaging the attention of the Institute.

NINTH PLAN BASE AND TENTH PLAN PROPOSALS

The Ninth Five Year Plan period was a period of economic crunch and austerity for the Institute. The ban on the filling of 64 administrative posts (including senior level positions) was a major setback for us. However, with great difficulty, the Institute has managed to sustain, improve, and develop programmes with the concerted effort of the faculty and existing administrative staff. The Institute also faced problems due to bureaucratic hurdles in developing its infrastructure. Freeze on the recruitment of the non-teaching staff has stretched the administration to the maximum.

The Institute has entered the Tenth Plan with these cumulative deprivations of the past. It is hoped that some of these deprivations and anomalies will be rectified during the Tenth Plan, so that the Institute can further improve the quality of education, research and field action.

The Tenth Plan UGC Expert Committee comprising Prof. V. Vasanthi Devi (Convener), Dr. Krishna Bal, Dr. P.S. Pandey, Prof. N.V. Reddy, Prof. Sanat Kumar Sen, Dr. Asha Kiran (Member-Secretary), Mr. S.P. Gaur, Mr. Ashok Kumar Saroya, and Mr. Sher Singh Yadav, visited the Institute from October 28–31, 2002. Various facets of the Institute, namely teaching, research, field action, documentation, knowledge development and dissemination, administration, finance, level of utilisation of grant, and welfare activities were the subjects which engaged their attention. An exhibition of the publications of faculty, a poster exhibition on the Institute, and the work done by the field action projects were also organised during their visit.

The Committee assessed the needs of the Institute and gave a very encouraging feedback. An initial allocation of Rs. 97.5 lakhs for the Main Campus and Rs. 30 lakhs for the Rural Campus was released in 2002–2003, the first year of the Tenth Plan period. The priority areas for utilisation as per UGC guidelines have been the Library and upgrading classroom teaching aids. In the latter category, Overhead Projectors, LCDs, Green boards, Panaboard, etc., have been procured. The final item-wise allocation for the Institute during the Tenth Plan is awaited.

TEACHING

Student Enrolment

The Institute offers degree, diploma and certificate programmes. In 2002–2003, 439 students were enrolled in its 4 Master's degree programmes, 4 M.Phil. and Ph.D. programmes, 2 Diploma programmes and 2 Certificate programmes (Section 1: Appendix 1). These students came from 26 States and 1 Union Territory of India, and 5 foreign countries.

Degree Programmes

The student enrolment for the different Master's degree programmes was 315. Of these, 203 were enrolled for M.A. in Social Work, 59 for M.A. in Personnel Management and Industrial Relations, 19 for Master of Health Administration and 34 for Master of Hospital Administration. Master's degree women students comprised 62.22 per cent (196).

The M.Phil. degree programme enrolled 8 scholars of whom 1 was part-time. The M.Phil. (Social Work) programme registered 2 scholars and the M.Phil. (Social Sciences) programme 6 scholars. The 36 scholars enrolled in the Ph.D. programme, include 24 part-time scholars. Five scholars are registered for a Ph.D. degree in Social Work and 31 for a Ph.D. in Social Sciences.

Diploma Programmes

Both the Diploma courses offered by the Institute are part-time evening programmes. The Diploma in Hospital Administration registered 20 students and the Diploma in Personnel Management 31.

Certificate Programmes

The full-time, one semester Certificate programme in Research Methodology enrolled 13 students, while the one-year, part-time Certificate in Social Work programme enrolled 16 students.

Foreign Students

The Department of Medical and Psychiatric Social Work gave six weeks training to 4 students from Myanmar, 3 of them were World Health Organisation Fellows. Ms. Daw Yuzana Kyin and Mr. U. Khin Maung Nyunt completed the training programme in 'Advanced Medical Social Work', while Ms. Daw Dolly and Mr. U. Soc Tint completed the training programme in 'Psychiatric Social Work'.

Syllabi

Students opting for the course on 'Advocacy in Social Work' were given an assignment on advocacy through budget analysis for the first time. Though the Department of Social Welfare Administration conducts this course, students from other specialisations also opted it.

Curriculum Review

The Institute has taken into cognisance the demands made on social work education by contemporary social realities. Towards this end, the efforts made by the Institute in the last few years to effect a comprehensive revision of the orientation, content and structure of the MA Social Work programme has borne fruit this year. Coordinated by a Planning Group, a one-year structured programme of workshops and consultations has been initiated so that a new MA Programme could be in place by 2004–2005. In this context, a three-day workshop has been able to arrive at a consensus on elements of the values, which should guide social work education in the coming decade. The respective social work departments would take a re-look at their past review exercises in the light of these values to formulate a new MA Programme by 2004–2005.

Field Work

Field work, an integral part of the teaching programme of the Institute, provides students an opportunity to learn by doing, and enhances professional sensitisation.

The first and second year students of MA in Social Work were placed in 78 agencies for their concurrent field work (Section 1: Appendix 2), of which 41 agencies were introduced this year. The second year MA Social Work students were placed in 75 agencies for their block field work.

The first and second year students of MA in Personnel Management and Industrial Relations were placed in 57 agencies for their concurrent field work (Section 1: Appendix 2). Of these, 29 agencies were introduced this year. The second year students of this programme were placed in 25 agencies for their block field work.

The students of Master of Health Administration and Master of Hospital Administration do internships. These students were placed in 57 agencies for their internships (Section 1: Appendix 2) of which 10 agencies were introduced this year.

The students of the Diploma programme in Personnel Management were placed in 21 agencies (Section 1: Appendix 2) of which 20 were introduced this year. The Diploma in Hospital Administration students were placed in 17 agencies (Section 1: Appendix 2) of which 6 were introduced in 2002–2003.

The Certificate in Social Welfare Administration students were placed in 3 agencies (Section 1: Appendix 2).

Rural Camp

The Rural Camp is an integral component for the first year students of the MA Social Work Programme. A compulsory, non-graded activity under the supervision of faculty, it is designed to help the first year students understand rural realities and help them analyse various development efforts in rural areas. Rural Camp is a unique programme where students and faculty find opportunity to work together in planning and action in small groups.

The academic activities of the second semester begin with the Rural Camp. This year, the students were divided into five groups, which visited villages in Maharashtra and Gujarat. In Maharashtra, the coordinating organisations were Manavi Hakk Abhiyan, Telgaon (Beed District); Watershed Organisation Trust, Ahmednagar; and Paryay, Kalamb Taluka. In Gujarat the coordinating agencies were the Narmada Bachao Andolan, and the Foundation for Ecological Security, Dahod. The accompanying faculty members facilitated the learning process from identification of issues to be studied to actual field experience to the post-Rural Camp Workshop.

Study Tour

The second year students of the MA Social Work programme undertake study tours.

The students of the Department of Criminology and Correctional Administration chose Jaipur and Delhi for their study tour. In Jaipur, they visited the Rajasthan Police Academy; the Central Jail; the Open Jail (at Sanganer), the Council for Advancement of People's Action and Rural Technology, People's Union for Civil Liberty, and Citizens Association for Human Rights. While in Delhi, the students visited the National Human Rights Commission, the Commonwealth Human Rights Initiative, Tihar Jail, and the South Asian Human Rights Documentation Centre. During these visits, the students interacted with prison inmates, police and prison officials, social workers and NGOs. These visits enriched their understanding regarding social work intervention in the administration of criminal justice and role played by NGOs and social workers in a correctional setting.

The Department of Family and Child Welfare organised its study tour to Chennai and Auroville, Pondicherry. The students visited organisations like Banyan, DESH, Auroville Village Action Group, Indian Council for Child Welfare, and the TTK Ranganathan Deaddiction Centre. The focus was on obtaining a holistic understanding of the work done by NGOs on issues related to alternate models of schooling, education, health, mental health, and self-help groups (SHGs). The students got an opportunity to learn about the various methodologies of work used by different organisations such as mobilising people in a community around common issues, identifying and training leaders in the community, contacting government officials for speedy implementation of policies, etc.

Students from the Department of Medical and Psychiatric Social Work visited Kerala for studying the alternative systems of medicines and healing, which broadly involves ayurveda, yoga, naturopathy and psycho-religious therapy. Various agencies working in Kerala in the area of alternative medicine and health were involved in providing the exposure to the students, as Kerala is rich in practising alternative systems of medicine. The agencies visited were the Nagarjuna Ayurvedic Centre (to study the different 'panchakarma' treatments involved in healing process of body and mind); Rajah Acres Ayurvedic Centre, as well as private and government run ayurvedic hospitals to study the modernisation taking place in ayurveda; the Goregaon Anti-Psychiatric Centre where psycho-religious therapy is successfully practised to cure various types of mental illnesses; naturopathy centres to study holistic healing; and a pharmaceutical plant manufacturing ayurvedic medicines.

The students of the Department of Social Welfare Administration visited organisations working in the area of micro-credit, community mental health, environment, child labour, citizen's right in deciding the need of an infrastructure development project, primary education, introduction of computer literacy at the primary school level, community based rehabilitation of the differently abled; and corporate social responsibility in and around Bangalore city. The organisations visited were Sangamitra (a micro-finance intermediary), the National Institute of Mental Health and Neuro Sciences, Environment Support Group, Movement for Alternatives and Youth Awareness and the Azim Premji Foundation. Two of the organisations later came for campus interviews and recruited two students.

Rajasthan and Delhi were the destinations by the students of the Department of Urban and Rural Community Development for their study tour. Four organisations were visited in Rajasthan. The first visit was made to CEEDOEDECON at Chaksu where they were exposed to a variety of issues related to water and water conservation techniques in many villages. The next organisation visited was the Mazdoor Kisan Shakti Sangathan, which was organising a jan sunvai (public hearing) on food security issues in Kelwara. The students got actively involved in the preparations for the jan sunvai. Pradan, in Dausa, was the next organisation visited where the students were oriented about the various strategies adopted in ensuring livelihood to people through dairying and other activities in a drought-prone area like Dausa. The students interacted with the villagers, especially members of the women's cooperatives and SHGs to understand the effectiveness of such initiatives. The students then interacted with a team from the People's Union for Civil Liberties on various social action strategies they had adopted and also took part in a demonstration on atrocities against women by the police. Towards the final leg of the tour, the students visited the Centre for Science and Environment in New Delhi where they were exposed to a variety of actions the organisation was taking towards generating mass awareness and action on air pollution, conservation, etc.

Certificate in Social Work

The Certificate in Social Work students visited human service organisations in and around Pune as part of their study tour. Organisations were identified to complement classroom inputs in order to enable the students to understand how interventions are put into action in the field. The range of organisations visited included those offering remedial and promotive services in relation to children, women, the elderly, environmental issues and rural development. As an outcome of the study tour, students were able to make connections with classroom inputs and field practice. This exposure has also facilitated classroom learning by enhancing understanding of social realities, issues and the relevance of social work intervention strategies in a more convincing and comprehensive way. The study tour experience has also enabled the students to mature, offer mutual support and take responsibilities for furthering their learning and developing capacities towards effective social work practice.

M.Phil. and Ph.D. Seminars

Scholars of the M.Phil. and Ph.D. programmes are required to present their research proposals and self-study papers in seminars. This year, 8 such seminars were held (Section 1: Appendix 3).

RESEARCH

Research has always been a major activity of the Institute and the Institute is recognised worldwide as a major centre of social research. Scholars from other institutions from India and abroad utilise the Institute's auspices for research and other academic pursuits.

The importance given to research at the Institute is evident from the existence of the 8 Research Units on Child and Youth Research, Research in the Sociology of Education, Urban Studies, Research and Consultancy in Social Policy and Social Welfare Administration, Rural Studies, Labour Studies, Women's Studies and Family Studies. However, research activity is not undertaken by the Research Units alone. It cuts across 9 Teaching Departments as well, i.e., Criminology and Correctional Administration, Family and Child Welfare, Medical and Psychiatric Social Work, Social Welfare Administration, Urban and Rural Community Development, Personnel Management and Industrial Relations, Health Services Studies, Research Methodology and Extra Mural Studies.

The mission and thrust of the Institute are reflected in the areas taken up for research by the faculty. ### Funding of Research

The Institute gets funding for its research projects from various sources. This includes its own research fund with the Board of Research Studies, and those from the Central and State Governments, non-governmental organisations, international agencies, industries, etc. In 2002–2003, the Institute sponsored 44 research projects, the Central and State Governments 17, international agencies 21, NGOs 16, and others 26. Eight projects were sponsored by more than one organisation.

Funding for Research Projects

FIELD ACTION PROJECTS AND FIELD ACTION SUPPORT

The Institute has initiated and promoted several field action projects (FAPs) since its inception in 1936. They are demonstrations of new social interventions and provide opportunities to test their efficacy, which could then be replicated by others. These projects enable faculty to develop professionally and keep abreast of field practice. Additionally, they provide students opportunities for learning new interventions and formulating appropriate strategies in practice. Field action projects have focussed on the issues of violence against women and children, child rights, child and adolescent mental health, street children, substance abuse, non-formal education, health, AIDS, environment, communalism and agriculture.

A workshop for FAP Staff was held on April 27–28, 2003, to bring them all on one platform and provide them an opportunity to share their experiences and learnings, and reflect on the issues which concern them. The Workshop had 60 participants, which included FAP Staff and Faculty Directors.

Fourteen FAPs were in operation in 2002–2003, including two Inter-Departmental/Unit projects (Section 1: Appendix 5). One field action project, Building Peace Initiatives: Towards a Human Rights Sensitive M-Ward, was jointly initiated by the Unit for Child and Youth Research and the Department of Extra Mural Studies this year. The objectives of this project are to provide opportunities for interaction between a variety of individuals and organisational representatives to dialogue on relevant issues/problems; to organise awareness and educational sessions on human rights for individuals and groups; to bring about attitudinal changes through the process of reflection; to facilitate collective action planned by the groups for creating a human rights sensitive environment; and to promote solidarity.

The FAP on Special Cell for Women and Children became a joint programme of the Government of Maharashtra, UNIFEM and TISS, after the signing of a tripartite agreement. The aim of this FAP is to establish and run a total of 10 cells across Maharashtra. So far, seven new cells have been set up in Yavatmal, Aurangabad, Pune, Wardha, Nashik, Nanded, and Navi Mumbai. This collaboration is for a period of three years after which it will be jointly reviewed with the partners. Thereafter, the Government of Maharashtra, through the Maharashtra Police, will take over these Cells and integrate them as part of their regular programme.

DISSEMINATION OF KNOWLEDGE

The Institute has been continuously engaged in knowledge dissemination and exchange of ideas. This takes place through the production of print and audio-visual material, and through seminars, conferences, workshops, and training programmes.

Publications

The publication of the premier journal of social work, The Indian Journal of Social Work (IJSW), is an ongoing activity of the Publications Unit. Due to technical problems, the journal issues could not be published on time. The Institute will be resuming publication of the IJSW shortly and backlog of pending issues will be covered in six months' time.

The publications of the Institute were invited to be displayed at the Mumbai International Book Fair as well as other book exhibitions held in Mumbai. The Unit also conducted workshops on referencing, copy-editing and proof-reading.

The faculty of the Institute publish regularly in reputed journals and through prestigious publishing houses and this year 48 faculty members had publications to their credit (Section 1: Appendix 6). These include 10 authored/edited volumes; 50 articles in journals and books; and 33 publications in the form of newspaper articles, book reviews, reports, manuals and working papers.

Audio-Visuals

The Unit for Media and Communications completed a 28-minute video production entitled Towards a People-Centred Tomorrow, which showcases the vision, history and work of the Institute. Another video film, entitled Naatha is nearing completion. It deals with the theme of communal harmony and is part of the series on Mumbai. In addition to production and research, the Unit has been involved in conducting several workshops, with various groups on themes such as critical media education and documentary production.

Seminars, Conferences, Workshops and Training Programmes

Faculty members of the various Departments and Units regularly organise and conduct seminars, conferences, workshops and training programmes with participants drawn from various disciplines and sections of society. This year, 55 faculty members organised 99 programmes of which, 11 were Inter-Departmental/Unit in nature (Section 1: Appendix 7).

The National Service Scheme Unit conducts Refresher Courses and Orientation Programmes for NSS Programme Officers in the colleges of Maharashtra. The jurisdiction of the Unit spreads to almost 1000 NSS Units of Junior and Degree Colleges. This year, the Unit trained 279 NSS Officers through 5 Orientation Programmes and 3 Refresher Courses on Volunteerism, Social Communication, and Water Management.

The Department of Extra Mural Studies organised two eight weeks programmes on 'Training Volunteers for Social Work' and a 'Basic Course in Counselling Skills for Helping Professions'. The Department also conducted the first ever 'Advanced Para-Professional Training' in partnership with YUVA.

UGC Centre for Refresher Courses

The UGC designated the Institute as a Centre to conduct Refresher Courses in the areas of Social Work and Women's Studies. These Refresher Courses are organised by the Social Work Education and Practice Cell. This year, the Cell organised two Refresher Courses: Non-Profit Organisations in the Changing Development Scenario; and Globalisation, Women and Natural Resource Management.

Kumarappa-Reckless Lecture

The 2002–2003 Kumarappa-Reckless Lecture was on 'Police Community Relations'. The lecture was delivered by Mr. J.F. Ribero, Retired Director-General of Police on March 24, 2003. A noted proponent of discipline and accountability within the police system, Mr. Ribero deliberated on police–public partnerships. Being a conscientious police officer, Mr. Ribero also went on to state that though the the community played an important role in prevention, the onus of motivation cannot be divested from the leadership within. He further emphasised the need to keep up the morale of the system, which would help to sustain peace in the community along with community interface.

OTHER ACADEMIC ACTIVITIES

CONCLUDING REMARKS

With this Convocation, the Institute has crossed another important milestone in its academic life. I place on record my grateful thanks to the Members of the Governing Board, the teaching and non-teaching staff, and students of the Institute whose contributions have led to its continuing growth. The management of the Institute and its myriad activities is possible only because of the teamwork of various Departments, Units and Sections and their commitment to achieve a common goal.

The Institute is being increasingly called upon to respond to the challenges of rapid change. In this endeavour, it requires support from several quarters. We are thankful to the UGC for their continuing financial support, advice and encouragement. The observations of the UGC Expert Committee of the Tenth Five Year Plan have been a source of encouragement to the TISS family.

The Tata Trusts have always been generous and helpful to the Institute in its programmes and activities. Their assistance for construction, scholarships, field action projects, conferences and intervention in crisis situations is indeed a critical input. We sincerely thank them for their generosity and look forward to their continuing support.

The Institute has benefited from its association with various national, international, governmental and non-governmental agencies. In particular, they have provided financial assistance for a number of research projects. We are beholden to them for their collaboration, partnership and support.

A number of outside agencies are closely involved in the programmes of the Institute. They provide students opportunities for field work, which is an important component of professional education. We are thankful to all the field work agencies and supervisors for their contribution to the enrichment of the educational programmes of the Institute.

At this Convocation, 154 graduates are receiving their Master's degrees—100 of them in Social Work, 30 in Personnel Management and Industrial Relations, 7 in Health Administration, and 17 in Hospital Administration—after successfully completing the two-year programme of professional education. In addition, 4 scholars are being awarded the Master of Philosophy degree and 3 scholars the Doctor of Philosophy degree (Section 1: Appendix 16).

In the past six decades, hundreds of the Institute's alumni have joined the world of work and have distinguished themselves through their contributions in various fields, both in India and abroad. Today, the Institute is offering another batch of qualified professionals to serve the nation. Those of you, who have acquired requisite knowledge and skills in human services and applied social sciences through MA/MHA and research degree programmes are indeed privileged. You will be called upon to shoulder the onerous responsibility in the field and also carry forward the mission of the Institute. I am confident that you will make a significant contribution towards the enrichment of civil society in general and to its relatively disadvantaged sections in particular, through your hard work, dedication, and leadership in the trying times ahead.

You are graduating at a time when the impact of globalisation is being felt far and wide and different groups are responding to it in myriad ways. Inequalities, social injustices, disparities, social tensions and violations of human rights are increasing. Communal harmony is under threat. Basic minimum services are yet to be made available to the vast multitude. The first hi-tech war of this century has left, in its trail enormous human problems. Democracy is being differentially perceived and redefined. The UN system is under severe strain due to shifting geo-political alliances. The challenges before you are, therefore, enormous. As competent and committed professionals, you will not only have to adequately respond to them and find solutions to human problems but also contribute to the overall social development of society as path-finders, innovators, professional role models and leaders.

I take this opportunity to congratulate all of you who have successfully completed studies at the Institute and are being awarded degrees as its testimony, and especially those who have earned merit awards and prizes in different subject areas (Section 1: Appendix 17). May you continue to win laurels by improving the quality of human life and environment. I wish all of you the very best in your professional careers and continuing success in your endeavours for the promotion of social development through leadership and service to society.

...I have not abandoned my faith in humanity. Mankind may err. But mankind is still the only source upon which we can depend for social regeneration. If the unstable condition of the world today is directly attributable to human failure, the stabilisation of society can be accompanied through intelligent human effort. As social idealists we are faced with a tremendous task — a task which is by no means lightened by the apathy and pessimism of so many of our fellow men. But I am firmly convinced that if thought ... could be given to morally creative efforts towards mobilisation for social welfare, our problem would be solved...if we can play but a small part in this process, our training here shall not be in vain.

Clifford Manshardt, Founder-Director, TISS, June 20, 1938.
