Advertisement for different positions available in Koshish-TISS Field Action Project on Homelessness and Destitution.

About Koshish:

Koshish- the field action project at Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Mumbai works on the issue of Homeless & Destitution, especially the institutional population processed under the Beggary Preventive Legislation with focus towards their rehabilitation.

Seeking decriminalization of beggary and poverty, Koshish addresses the interrelated issues of destitution, homelessness and mental health through interventions pitched at different levels. The interventions comprise addressing immediate needs, facilitating sustainable rehabilitation, skill development, counselling, and advocacy for structural reforms. The issues of mental health, disability, needs assessment and social entitlements are at the core of all our interventions.

The Beggary Law:

An act of beggary is a punishable offense under the Bombay Prevention of Beggary Act 1959 criminalize beggary under this beggar prevention legislation. People with mental illness, elderly, abandoned, leprosy, people with disabilities, seasonal migrants, persons from de-notified communities, women faced with violence, transgenders are all categories of people which fall within the ambit of beggary laws. There are institutions established under the Beggary Laws and Koshish runs interventions from these government institutions. Recently the Hon. Chief Justice Bench of the Bombay High Court has passed an order in Sep 2024 to take steps to eradicate the beggary. Koshish of Tata Institute of Social Sciences were highlighted and recognized by the Hon. Chief Justice Bench for its efforts to provide interventions to the persons with homeless/beggary and repatriate them back to their homes or send them to various organizations for their psychosocial treatment and holistic development as human beings.

Project's Requirements:

The organization functions on the ideals of trust, justice and commitment. The work involves working directly with the homeless citizens including the ones in custodial institutions. Koshish is committed to working on the clients' end to end rehabilitation. Selected candidates would be working directly with these clients. Selected candidates require to have an aptitude to work with the systems, especially the institutional setting.
